WHAT IS KOREAN FOOD

Annyeong hasayeo !!!

What comes to your mind first when you think of "Korean Food"? Korean food is well known to the world as food that is decorative, delicious and, above all, healthy.

Korean food is globally renowned for being decorative, delicious, and healthy, rooted in four core principles.

First, the belief that food and medicine share the same origin emphasizes that mindful eating is essential for health, a concept now recognized by some U.S. hospitals. Second, the cuisine is expertly balanced; a traditional 2 to 8 ratio of meat to vegetables helps prevent nutritional imbalance and obesity. Third, Korean cooking honors nature by using techniques that preserve the authentic, raw flavors of fresh ingredients, such as in namul (seasoned greens). Finally, dishes are often crafted to reflect the Eastern philosophy of Yin-Yang and the five elements to achieve complete harmony.

At Madang, we uphold these high standards to ensure you experience a truly authentic and unique taste of Korea.
